To Holders of LAND WARRANTS!!

John L. Hodsdon,

DOW'S BLOCK, Hammond Street, Bangor, would call the attention of those who may have LAND WARRANTS to sell, to the fact that he has orders for large numbers of Land Warrants from parties in the West, who authorize him to pay for the same the highest market value in CASH. Any person having a Warrant may therefore be assured that he can obtain from Mr. H. the most favorable price for it.

To those who desire to

Locate their Warrants,

he would further say that he has skilled and careful agents in the States of

SITUATION as Clerk is wanted by a Young Man, about 21 years of age. Inquire at Westacott's

ARNOLD'S COMBINED

FOOT STOVE, LANTERN, AND NURSE-LAMP.

ARNOLD STOVES having purchased the exclusive right of manufacturing and vending in Penobscot County the valuable invention, hereby offered to offer them to the public.

The FOOT STOVE, it answers an excellent purpose, and can be sufficiently heated in less than one hour to warm and dry the feet in the coldest weather, and will be found to be an indispensable article for travelling. It is heated by an Arnold Lamp, the flame of which is protected from every external object.

The LANTERN, answers all the usual purposes, but is designed to be overset, or get broken and spilled. Used as a house lamp with equal advantage.

The NURSE LAMP, and in cases of sickness, will be found of great advantage in keeping drinks or medicine at the right degree, and for many other purposes. For making tea, and many other conveniences, as a quart of water can be boiled in a few minutes, and a dish of food kept hot for hours.

In fact, these lamps are valuable appendages to every household, and as no one can fully understand its general utility. They are offered to the public with the confident belief that a trial will satisfy purchasers of their value. All will see at once for themselves.

PREMIUMS

TO NEW SUBSCRIBERS.

L. SCOTT & CO., New York, continue to publish the following leading British Periodicals, viz:

THE LONDON QUARTERLY (Conservative.)
THE EDINBURG REVIEW (Whig.)
THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW (Free Church.)
THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW (Liberal.)
BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURG MAGAZINE (Tory.)

THE great and important events—Religious, Political, Military—now agitating the nations of the Old World, give to these publications an interest and value they never before possessed. They occupy a middle ground, between the hastily-written news letter, crude speculations, and flying rumors of the newspaper and the ponderous Tomes of the historian, written long after the living interest in the facts he records shall have passed away. The progress of the War in the East occupies a large space in these pages. Every movement is closely criticised, whether of friend or foe, and all short comings fearlessly pointed out. The letters from the Crimea and the Baltic in Blackwood's Magazine, from two of the most popular contributors, give a more intelligible and reliable account of the movements of the belligerents than is elsewhere to be found.

These Periodicals ably represent the three great political parties of Great Britain—Whig, Tory, and Radical,—but politics form only one feature of their character. As Organs of the most profound writers on Science, Literature, Morality and Religion, they stand as they ever have stood, unrivalled in the world of letters, being considered indispensible to the scholar and the professional man, while to the intelligent reader of every class they furnish a more correct and satisfactory record of the current literature of the day, throughout the world, than can be possibly obtained from any other source.

EARLY COPIES.

The receipt of advance Sheets from the British Publishers gives additional value to these Reprints, especially during the present exciting state of European affairs, inasmuch as they can thus be placed in the hands of subscribers about as soon as the original editions

TO THE REPUBLICANS OF THE UNITED STATES

In accordance with what appears to be the general desire of the Republican party, and at the suggestion of a large portion of the Republican press the Chairmen of the State Republican Committees of Maine, Vermont, Massachusetts New York Pennsylvania Ohio, Michigan Indiana and Wisconsin hereby invite the Republicans of the Union to meet in informal Convention at Pittsburg on the 22d February 1856, for the purpose of perfecting the National Organization, and providing for a National Delegate Convention of the Republican party at some subsequent day, to nominate candidates for the Presidency and Vice Presidency to be supported at the election in November 1856

A P STONE of Ohio
J Z GOODRICH of Mass
DAVID WILMOT of Pa
LAWRENCE BRAINERD of Vt
WILLIAM A WHITE of Wis

Republican Organization and Platform

Strange as it may appear, the Republican party, which is stigmatized by the proslavery dough-faces as the "Black Republican party," and whose members are pertinaciously accused of being nothing but abolitionists—has a great central Association at Washington city, established and maintained in the very face of slavery—and preparing energetically to send forth, by means of a National Committee, correct political information to every quarter of the Union. This Association has recently issued an able written Circular to the Republicans of the country, setting forth the objects and modes of organization, and recommending similar associations elsewhere From this association may be procured speeches and documents suitable for disseminating sound doctrines and proper information among the people The Committee say

"These speeches and documents can be directed singly to such names as you may send us, or they can be put up in packages and sent to any one person, (free of postage,) to be by him distributed, as may best suit the parties ordering"

Address Damel R Goodloe, H S. Brown, or Lewis Clephause, who constitute the distributing committee

The platform put forth by the Association is as follows—a model of brevity and comprehensiveness—and one which will recommend itself to every freeman of the land

We adopt the following as our political Platform to wit —

First That Congress possesses no power over the institution of slavery in the several States by that outside of State jurisdiction the constitution power of the Federal Government should be exerted to secure LIFE, LIBERTY and HAPPINESS to all men and there fore

Second. There should be neither Slavery nor involuntary servitude except for the punishment of crime in any of the Territories of the United States

Third The People are the rightful source of legislative power and all officers should as far as practicable be chosen by a direct vote of the People

Fourth Candidates for political offices should be men of undoubted integrity and sobriety, and pledged to support the principles of this Platform by all lawful and constitutional means

In regard to practical action, they make the following just suggestions, to be adopted everywhere

"We recommend prompt organization If there be but six persons in your town who sympathise with you in this movement, organize with these Do not despair If a Republican Association can be put in successful operation in Washington city, under the immediate frowns of the National Government and in a city dedicated to Slavery, where ere the city, town or village in the North East, or West, that cannot do likewise

Set about at once bringing the friends of the Republican movement together, for the purpose of organizing on the platform similar to the one which accompanies this and which you will find to differ on the Slavery question, that every man, who is not entirely wedded to Slavery and its interests may stand upon it, without its interfering with any of his former party predilections

REPORT OF THE ADJUTANT GENERAL This officer opens his report with a complaint of the carelessness of the commanders of many volunteer companies in making no returns Of the latter companies there are 30 newly formed in the State, besides 77 organized—making the aggregate volunteer force of the State about 4000 men He speaks very highly of these companies, but thinks that the fostering care of the Legislature might easily increase the force to 10,000 men, which it ought to do. The importance of such a body as stated. He was not present at the reviews held under Major Generals Wendall P Smith and G G. Cushman, but has no hesitation in saying, from reliable information, "that for military department and soldier-like bearing, they could hardly be excelled."

He had considerable difficulty in disposing of the old and useless property in the arsenals, and in supplying the new companies with muskets. He commends the zeal and fidelity with which the Arsenals at Portland and Bangor have been kept by Messrs Kimball and Morse

THE SUGAR CROP —At a convention of sugar planters of Louisana, held in New Orleans last week, Hon John Moore, President of the meeting, stated that the sugar crop of 1844 6 consisted of 346,63 ; hogsheads of sugar, worth $40 per hogshead, and 677,340, barrels of molasses, worth $7 20 per barrel In round figures, the value of the sugar was $14,000,000, and of the molasses $7,000,000, making in all say seventeen millions of dollars He put down the crop of 1855 6 at 225 000 hogsheads of sugar, worth say $18,000 000 , and 350,000 barrels of molasses, worth $4,000,000, making a total of $22,-500,000

The Liverpool Observer says that the great steam-ship building at Messrs. Scott Russell's, for the Eastern Steam Navigation Company, is to be launched the first week in August Her first voyage will be to New York, and not to Australia. She is to be called the Great Eastern, and will proceed to Liverpool

There were 1563 births and 1160 deaths in London during the second week in January.

Ladies' Levee.

It will be seen by a reference to our advertising columns that the ladies of the Unitarian Benevolent Society propose to hold a Levee at Norombega Hall, this (Friday) evening—the funds to be appropriated to the aid of several of our well-known and approved charitable institutions. The objects being, as we understand, so entirely unsectarian and laudable, citizens of all denominations may well unite, and make the gathering an overflowing one, especially as we learn that several of the societies to be aided are greatly in want of funds to meet the pressing demands, caused by the "hard times" The times are hard indeed for all, but doubly so for the widow and the fatherless, the sick and the destitute Twenty five cents is but little for each to give, but as many a little makes a mickle, we trust these small sums will be forthcoming in such numbers as to send joy and comfort to many a desolate hearth

As there will probably be a crowd of people present, it is suggested by the committee, that it would be well for the guests to provide themselves with strings, with which to tie their outside garments into a compact bundle, or that bags be brought to put them in, which would be still better,—that the confusion and loss often complained of on these occasions may be avoided.

Arrangements have been made with Messrs Bickford & Pendleton, we understand, by which refreshments will be conveniently furnished for all who may desire them,—at their own expense, of course No other extra charges

Music for the occasion by Streeter's Quadrille Band.

New Publications

The "People's Edition" of the Works of J Fennimore Cooper is nearly completed, by Stringer & Townsend of New York It is printed in uniform and handsome style, and at a very low price. Among the numbers issued the present month we have received the following

"Satanstoe, the first of the novels written against Anti Rentism The tale is the name of a Westchester manor, belonging in the Littlepage family, whose fortunes are narrated — The tale opens at the time of the old French War In the subsequent story of "The Chainbearer," the history of the material difficulties is brought down to the present day

"The Deerslayer" Written last of the Leather Stocking Tales, it should be read first, as the events it describes are of an earlier date Here he appears as a young forester in the wilderness of New York, accompanied by Chingachgook, the Indian, who figures in the "Last of the Mohicans The characters in this are mainly chosen from humble life The time chosen is about 1740

These works are for sale in Bangor by D Bugbee & Co

A NEW WORK BY MRS SOUTHWORTH Mr. T B Peterson of Philadelphia, has in press, and will issue on Saturday, the 8th of March, a new work, entitled "India, or the Pearl of Pearls," by Mrs Southworth, whose romances of "The Lost Heiress, "The Deserted Wife," "The Wife's Victory," &c , have met with so wide a sale The forthcoming work is said to be superior in character and interest to those which have before appeared It will be issued in one large handsome volume in cloth binding at $1,50 and also in two volumes, paper covers, at $1

MR OLIVER A LOUD, proprietor of the Dancing Academy in Lewis Hall, Main Street gave a dancing party to his friends on Wednesday evening. The party was composed of attended The music, (which was by Streeter's Quadrille Band) was excellent, and the dancing was kept up for some hours with spirit All the participants expressed themselves delighted with the occasion The Journal says of it — "Some one or two hundred were assembled, and some very pleasant hours were passed in agreeable recreation The hall and anti rooms are admirably arranged for comfort and convenience The main hall extends the depth of the Block, and is well lighted on three sides The large company present last evening, tested its capacity satisfactorily, and twice unanimous their appreciation of the adaptation of the premises to its purposes, of the pleasure of the occasion, and the liberality of Mr. Loud

The State Treasurer has removed William Chidwell, the faithful and competent Chief Clerk who has had charge of the books of the office for fifteen years, and who, by party feeling has never before risen high enough to touch.—The new incumbent is Judge Redington the father-in law of the Treasurer

POLITE ROBBERY —A correspondent of the New York Sun, writing from Naples, gives the following description of the polite manner in which one may be robbed in Italy:

I think I have never experienced a finer climate than that of Naples I have never entertained a favorable idea of the climate of Mexico and the West Indies, but I am free to aspect that it cannot equal this And I would advise every one —that can—to spend a season here or anywhere along the shores of the Mediterranean The variegated scenery, the charming drives, the curiosities to be met with, bid fair to meet an modern, all serve to render the stay attractive, and will amply repay one for the trouble and expense of a voyage hither. The same sort of gentlemen, however, who have made themselves so justly notorious among the mountains of Mexico are to be met with on the high way between this city and Rome I refer to the brigands On meeting with the diligence they very politely request the driver to stop for a short time, and then, in the most genteel manner—something after the style of a French dancing master, I suppose—request the passengers to step out, one at a time, and to lay upon the ground, with their face downward. A sort of custom-house operation is then gone through with. The baggage is inspected, and also their pockets Everything valuable is taken—watches, money, &c. This the gentlemen of the road inform you, is merely a matter of precaution to save you from annoyance should you meet with robbers, for in such case you would have nothing for them to take, and they would not molest you. A queer kind of logic, to be sure, but you are obliged to accept it. When all is accomplished the robbers inform the prostrate passengers that in fifteen minutes they give a signal, when they are free to arise and pursue their journey — Wishing them all sort of prosperity they then leave, and at the expiration of the time allotted the travellers are quite more free. Truly, one is indebted to be robbed in very pleasant manner, done in a gentlemanly manner.

THE SINKING OF BRIG WM H SAFFORD, AND LOSS OF EIGHT LIVES.—The telegraph has given an account of a painful accident which occurred on Monday morning, in the East river, near Wallabout Bay, by which eight lives were lost The following details are furnished by the New York Herald

It appears that on Sunday night the her-maphrodite brig William H Safford, of Bangor, Me., Capt Christopher Smith, master, came up the bay and dropped anchor in the East river, between Old Slip and Fulton ferry. The tide was very strong, and after the best bower was let down the cable parted and the vessel drifted towards the Navy Yard This was about three o'clock yesterday morning

A little while after the vessel was brought up, the tide turned, and soon run with great violence, bringing with it masses of floating ice, a piece of which eventually struck the Safford with great force, and stove in her bow in the vicinity of the timber ports, when she began to make water rapidly

At this time there was no one on deck but the captain, who, when he became aware of the danger, called up the crew, who rushed on deck, but too late to be of any service. One of the crew who was saved states that when he sprang out of his hammock he found himself up to his knees in the frozen water, and the vessel during that short time in imminent danger of sinking

Though there were but ten persons on board the brig, the greatest confusion immediately prevailed, as they knew not what to do, and could not realize until too late, the extent of their danger, and when at length it became evident that they were going down, no ax could be found to cut away the yawl, that was made fast to the vessel by a heavy cable While the seamen were tugging at the rope, in vain endeavoring to cut it loose, Mrs Smith, the master's wife, and her two children, who were in their night clothes, entered the yawl when the vessel lurched and went down stern foremost, sucking down in the vortex all but two of the persons on board, and it is presumed that they were also much chilled before they returned to the surface to make any serious efforts for life Besides, the ebb tide was running impetuously at the time, and it would have required a strong swimmer to make the shore under any circumstances

Two of the seamen, when they saw the vessel settling rushed for the foremast, making their way to the crosstrees, which fortunately reached the surface of the water when the vessel touched bottom There they remained for nearly two hours, chilled to the very marrow by the cold wind and the frozen water, which reached up to their middle and in momentary danger of being dragged under, should the brig turn over on her side Several vessels passed, but none of them heeded their cries, and the Peck Slip ferry boat came very near them, but the pilot—if he did not see them—pretended not to do so, and left them to their fate

About 6 o clock, the seamen were fortunate enough to attract the attention of Lieutenant McClung, the officer of the deck on board the receiving ship North Carolina, and he dispatched the gunner, John M. Ballard, in a dingy, with four men, to their assistance when they were taken from their uncomfortable and dangerous position, and brought on board the North Carolina in an exhausted condition A few minutes after they were taken from the crosstrees the brig turned over, and the masts disappeared under water

The seamen were immediately put under the charge of a doctor, and on application of the proper remedies, recovered, and told substantially the story given above

The following is a list of the names of the drowned and saved

DROWNED

Christopher Smith, master
Mrs M Smith, his wife
Two children of the above—a girl twelve years of age, and a boy of five
David Darragh mate
Alexander Bremner seaman.
Henry Williams seaman
The cook colored), name unknown. Total 8

SAVED

Frank Ryder, seaman
William Brown seaman

The seamen on board the North Carolina made up a subscription among themselves, which amounted to $60, and gave it to the two rescued seamen

Captain Smith, who was drowned, formerly resided in Brewer, near Bangor, in Maine, where he was much respected. This was the first time he had taken his wife and family with him on a sea voyage There was a large cargo on board of sugar, in the hold, and molasses on deck This vessel sailed from Boston, where her crew was shipped, some four months ago, to Demarara, where her cargo was taken on board, she stopped at Atakapas, La , on her way to this port. C P Leverich, of this city, owns the cargo. The whole circumstance is most painful, the more so as the parties had just returned from a long voyage, and were to all appearance, when they retired, secure enough, being but a few feet from the wharf.

The mate's trunk, and the log book of the vessel were picked up Monday afternoon The brig had two boats, but both were washed so firmly that they could not be cleared in time to use them The long boat was on deck, and the yawl over the stern.

A FIGHT WITH A DEER —As B W Farrar, Esq., of this place, was coming from Lubec with his horse and sleigh, on the 24th ult, when a few miles this side of Whiting he discovered a large buck deer cross the road and pass on to the mill pond in that vicinity where he fell through the ice, but the water being thin, he broke his way to the opposite shore where he was met by Mr F who had secured a club with which to give him battle. The deer turned, approached the mill near by where he was overtaken by his pursuer, again turned, jumped at Mr F., when by some means both man and deer fell some six feet, down into a wall of limbs beside the flume of the mill where for either to escape required exertion and judicious management, so now the contest became animated, the deer butting and striking with his feet, and his adversary fending off with well directed blows from his club

"Long time in even scale the battle hung."

But after a contest of some half an hour the noble buck yielded and laid down his life, and Mr. Farrar could rejoice that his adversary was slain.—Machias Union

WESTERN JUSTICE—The St Louis (Mo,) Herald says that a week or two ago a wealthy young Tennessee planter took passage for that city at Paducah, Kentucky, on board the steamer Helen Mar, and on the passage succeeded in gaining the affections and finally accomplishing the ruin, of a young and pretty girl on board. By some means the matter was suspected by the boatmen, who through some of the lady passengers, obtained a verification of their suspicions. They waited on the planter and told him to prepare to get married or be put ashore on a sand bar to freeze to death; them made the boat fast at Chester, Ill., sent for a justice whom they pulled out of his bed, had in a few minutes the pair were married, and the sum of $150 exacted from the bridegroom to treat all hands When last heard from, the newly-married couple were at Barnum's Hotel, St. Louis, Mo.

MORAL SUN The Roman Catholic Bishop of Toronto has started a very remarkable political pastoral, in which he specifies several "mortal" sins, against which the faithful should guard with pamilar vigilance, such as going to a Protestant church, and sending Catholic children to common schools.

Squatter Sovereignty—Its Evils and Disastrous Results.

What a commentary do the accounts from Kansas afford upon the doctrine of POPULAR SOVEREIGNTY! All the evils which now afflict that Territory, and its future, may be directly traced to that pernicious act which threw open the Territory to slavery How that act is appreciated in Kansas we have the evidence in the fact stated in the Herald of Freedom, that a Republican party was organized in that city on the 18th, at a large and enthusiastic mass meeting, which was composed of members of every existing political party. The Herald of Freedom says:

"A platform of principles was reported by Col Lane, which recognizes the right of Congress to interfere with slavery in the Territories, and pledges us to demand that it shall hereafter be confined to the State where it already exists Col Lane, Mr Lowry, Mr Conway, Mr Legate and Mr Mallory—all National Democrats—endorsed the platform as reported, and thus repudiated Squatter Sovereignty, the cardinal doctrine of the National Democracy

When Hunker Democrats, like Governor Reader and Col Lane, after witnessing the workings of the new Administration doctrine, utterly repudiate it, and when almost every mail from the West brings tidings of its disastrous results, how can any professed friend of free institutions excuse himself for acquiescing in a doctrine so monstrous?—Boston Journal

HONESTY IS A BEST POLICY.—The maxim that Honesty is the best Policy is not a very respectable motive to right action Genuine honesty is a thing of prime ple, not of calculation. But yet the maxim is none the less valid as a statement of fact There was reason in Wolsey's exclamation, at the end of his tortuous career, "Corruption wins not more than honesty" All human experience in all grades of life, confirms it. It has always been so, and will remain so for the mortal world is not less steadfast than the natural world, nor are its laws less powerful or less sure That which is false rather in word or action cannot have solid endorsance, for it rests, not on that which is, but on that which is not,—not on that which is in harmony with God's universe, but on that which is at variance with it, and the whole tendency of which is to bewilder and delude and disquiet and degrade and destroy Dishonesty is always a losing business Want of principle is want of judgment A knave is a fool.

Three men are now on their way to Van Diemen's Land to serve out fourteen years of penal sentence, who last year ranked among the most sagacious, and responsible and respectable bankers in the British Kingdom — They did business together in an honest way up to 1852. Embarrassments then began to press upon them To meet these, the substantial resources of their bank were first drained, then their private property was pledged, and finally, to stave off impending bankruptcy, the securities of their customers were plundered Their difficulties arose originally from making advances to speculators without obtaining tangible security, but what began in indiscretion ended in reckless ness; what originally was an irregularity, finally became a piece of monstrous turpitude It is difficult to trace the first deviation from the line of moral rectitude in the history of their business, but that deviation, or whatever, it was, sealed their fate They are utterly ruined men There is not an honest pauper in any workhouse in England whose condition, is not preferable to theirs — The sooty collier that is now delving far, far, down in the deepest darkest seam of the island would be a fool to exchange places with Sir John Dean Paul on the convict ship The very rags of the beggar, shine like regalia when seen by the side of his felon's garb

The history of Robert Schuyler after the commission of his fraudulent acts, and the circumstances of his recent death are another memorable illustration of the short sightedness and imitation of dishonesty If there was ever a man in this city who was pledged by every earthly consideration to a life of integrity and honor it was he But in an evil hour to save himself, as he thought, from difficulty, he yielded to temptation He committed himself, unwatched and unobserved, to a dishonest course, and his very concealment with the attendant success led him on, till he reached exposure and infamy He escaped the law but he did not escape the consciousness of his disgrace, nor the conspicuous visitings of remorse He died a wretched exile, stripped of everything that makes life worth keeping Mr Schuyler was a man of great energy, and, as he was thought, unkommon sagacity But never was there a more egregious or a more fatal act of folly than his in thinking the devil could help him in the prosecution of his business From the day that was concluded upon, ruin was inevitable

Intelligence has just reached our city of the death of James C Forsyth, under an assumed name in England—a fresh instance of dishonesty brought to ruin. Not many men have started in life with fairer prospects than he Well descended, educated talented, and honored—a member of our State Constitutional Convention in 1846, afterwards the candidate of the Whig party for the high office of Secretary of State—he had every inducement to keep true to the line of integrity But he gave way to a passion for gaming, became involved and undertook to extricate himself by raising money with the forged signatures of his father and father in law Exposed he fled, and was a wanderer over the earth, until life became an intolerable burden He has died, ere he had seen forty years a blasted ruined, man

Illustrations of the infatuation of trusting to wrong-doing for acquisition of gain, or for deliverance from difficulty, are constantly occurring, and it behoves every young man of business to note them well The present generation is undoubtedly a very enlightened and smart one, but it is neither enlightened nor smart enough to set aside or get around the homely old Scripture law, that "the ways of transgressors are hard" The man who in his lust for gold digs a pit out of which he cannot climb is a fool and so is the man who rushes into such a pit to save himself from obstacles and embarrassments in the legitimate walks of life There is neither safety nor wisdom, but in a strict conformity to the line of justice and truth It is a trite proverb, that no man becomes base all at once and in these times of intense business stir and strong temptations, it cannot be too faithfully borne in mind that it is the first step which costs.—N Y Courier and Enquirer

A beath for steamships and sailing vessels has been invented, with a view to prevent, by its use, seasickness. At the bottom of the berth are two wide convex pieces—or battens—from the centre of this under side of which converge heavy steel balance springs, which are hooked to the sides of the berth These springs are made to possess considerable elasticity, so that the occupant of the berth will always preserve his balance, no matter how much the vessel may be tossed.

Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

[From the editor of the Vermont Journal June 29, 1855]

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY has become one of the established institutions of the country During the ten years Dr Sowle has been the proprietor of this valuable medicine it has been constantly gaining ground in the public confidence Persons personally known to us have used it with signal results Although we have ourself had no occasion to try its medicinal virtues, we do not hesitate from what we know of the experience of others to pronounce that Balsam one of the most efficacious remedies for the Ailments and Affections of the Lungs. Thirty Years Experience of an Old Nurse.

Hear the Brooklyn Daily Advertiser

We cheerfully comply with the request of a friend in insert the following testimonial, which was communicated to us from a lady of the first respectability, residing in Lowell, Mass Believing that a vast amount of suffering may be prevented and many valuable lives saved by calling the attention of mothers to this valuable preparation of an old and experienced nurse

Dear Sir—I am happy to be able to certify to the efficiency of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup and to the truth of what it is represented to accomplish. Having a little boy suffering greatly from teething which could not rest at night by his cries would not permit any of the family to do I purchased a bottle of Mrs Soothing Syrup and determined to test the remedy, and when given to the boy according to directions its effect upon him was like magic He soon went to sleep, and all pain and nervousness disappeared We have had no trouble with him since, and the little fellow will pass through the process of teething by the aid and use of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup Every mother who regards the health and life of her children should possess it

EDITH,

The Quaker's Daughter.

A TALE OF PURITAN TIMES.

BY ONE OF HER DESCENDANTS

12 mo. cloth. Price $1,25.

A more charming tale has rarely made its appearance in any country The scene is laid in Boston, at the time of the religious persecution of the Quakers by the Puritans, and this circumstance adds very great interest to a tale which does not require any such fictitious aid but whose intrinsic qualities are sufficient to fasten the readers attention, and deeply move his sympathies, as well as enforce an admirable moral lesson

We add a paragraph from the book itself

"The world is aware that the early history of the Quakers in New England fills a page in her records which the descendants of our Puritan ancestors would gladly see forever from the eyes of men The time of these occurrences is yet too recent, for justice to either party to be awarded.—The consciousness of recent intolerance on the one hand, and the remembrance of wrong on the other, are yet too fresh in the minds of their descendants, and years must pass away before either can regard the other with impartiality. But our historians and others should remember that the past is only made deeper through attempts to excuse those deeds of cruelty by false representations of their victims, and it becomes the duty of every faithful representative of those times to depict their characters with fairness, and to do justice to the motives that influenced their conduct "We trust that the time is not far distant when the spirit that still characterizes New England men, especially her clergy, will give place to a more enlightened feeling of Christian brotherhood. Even the Quakers stood alone against abuses that are now cried down by the majority, and if their peculiarities are fast disappearing from our sight, our principles remain

TELEGRAPHIC

THE DAILY WHIG AND COURIER

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.

Mr. Wilson gave notice of the introduction of a bill to repeal the act authorizing the establishment of the Naval Academy.

The Speaker was then authorized to appoint the Standing Committees.

Mr. Pennington, from the Joint Committee appointed to wait on the President, reported that the latter had expressed his high appreciation of the courtesy, and would be happy to co-operate with Congress in any measure promotive of the public interests.

Mr. Campbell, of Ohio, moved a reconsideration of the resolution for the election of printer. Agreed to by 102 against 81.

Mr. Campbell made an ineffectual effort to amend the Senate's joint resolution for the adjournment over from Washington and Georgetown next Friday.

The question then recurred on the resolution, for the House to proceed to the election of printer. Pending which the House adjourned to Monday.

Fire.

The bank shop in the Washington Navy Yard was accidentally destroyed by fire this morning. The estimated loss is $6,000.

Judicial Decision.

In the United States Supreme Court to-day, in the case of James Abbott versus The Essex Co., Justice Grier delivered the opinion of the Court affirming the judgment of the Circuit Court of Massachusetts with cost.

Railroad Collision.

HINSDALE, Mich., Feb. 7.

A collision occurred last night on the Michigan Southern Railroad, half a mile from this place, between the Eastern and Western Express trains. The baggage master, fireman, mail and other person were killed. The engineer, brakeman and train boy had each a leg broken. The baggage car of the Eastern train was burned, together with all the baggage and the mail.

Fire in Canandaigua, N. Y.

CANANDAIGUA, Feb. 7.

A fire broke out here about 3 o'clock this morning in the hat store of J. A. Palmer, destroying the following stores: H. Underhill, book store; Mr. Shafer, clothing; Mrs. Smith, millinery; Platt N. Smith, drugs; J. Mitchell, dry goods.

The east wall has since fallen, crushing in the west wall of the Savings Bank of Thomas Beals.

The printing office of the Repository is also destroyed.

The loss is estimated at $40,000. Insured for about $20,000.

Death of Judge Byington.

BOSTON, Feb. 7.

Judge Horace Byington, of the Massachusetts Common Pleas Court, died yesterday at Northampton.

Storm in Boston.

Snow fell steadily from 8 to 12 to-day, followed by a heavy rain storm, thick fog and indications of a general thaw.

[From the Augusta Correspondent.]

AUGUSTA, Feb. 7.

In SENATE, to-day, Mr. Farley introduced a Bill to consolidate certain railroad Corporations. The bill provides for a union between the Androscoggin and Kennebec Railroad Company and the Penobscot and Kennebec Railroad Company, consolidating them both into one Corporation.

The Governor appointed his Aids—

Robert Howe Jr., Eastport; Charles A. Lombard, Augusta; O'Neil W. Robinson Jr., Bethel; John R. Swett, Parsonsfield.

The public houses are crowded; many Bangor people are here. Yours, L.

There were indications of a "break" in the weather last night when our paper went to press. After a slight fall of snow in the afternoon, it became milder and commenced thawing.

Messrs. Hodgman, Carr & Co. will please accept our thanks for a copy of the Boston Journal of yesterday in advance of the mail, and for other favors.

The St. Paul's Pioneer says that a man named N. W. Davis was killed a short time since in Crow Wing River, from injuries received from the falling of a tree. He was from Maine.

MARINE NEWS.—Schooner Eastern Belle, of Rockport, which had just arrived at N. York from Savannah, in tow of the steamer Fear, was fired, at about 2 o'clock, P. M., on the 2d inst., on account of the refusal of the master to heave to when hailed. The shot from gun No. 9 took effect in the hull of the vessel, passing through her from port to port No. 45 feet lower.

A portion of the cargo and materials of brig Helen Maria, of Bristol, R. I., lost on Elbow Key, valued at $1800, were saved, taken to Nassau and sold.

DIFFICULTY WITH FRANCE.—New York, Feb. 6.—The Herald's Washington correspondent telegraphs: "It has leaked out of the State Department that the French government has assumed a position in relation to certain Russian vessels that have been transferred since the commencement of the Eastern war, to citizens of the United States, being at the time of transfer in American ports, which it is likely will make difficulty. A list of the vessels has been furnished to Mr. Mason, our Minister at Paris, and the determination arrived at on the part of the French and English governments, to hold them as lawful prizes of war, if they are captured. The correspondence will probably be called for in a few days."

Major Samuel S. Stacy died at Georgetown, D. C., on the 2d inst. Major Stacy was a native of Maine, and entered very young into the service of his country as an officer in the war of 1812. He served gallantly and faithfully, and when war occurred with Mexico he was appointed a paymaster in the army and served in the close of the war. Previous to that time, he had been for many years attached to the public service at the Portsmouth, N. H. Navy Yard.

Crystalotype Portraits.

DAGUERREOTYPES can be accurately copied by the new Photographic process, enlarged to any required size, and beautifully colored in Oil, Water, or Pastel. Portraits are obtained from the life by this process, requiring no longer sitting than for a common daguerreotype, thus avoiding the serious inconvenience of fatigue of long sittings. These daguerreotypes, a new article of unsurpassed richness and durability, are now, for the first time in Bangor, offered to the public. Their great brilliancy and permanency renders them peculiarly suitable for Pins, Rings, &c. The Public are invited to call and examine specimens at HARDY'S Portrait Gallery, Hunt-street, about a short distance below the Bangor House.

DE GUINO'S IMPROVED

Non-Explosive Camphene & Fluid

LAMPS and CANS.

HAVING purchased the Patent right for the State of Maine for the above Lamps, I am now prepared to offer them to purchasers in every variety adapted to the use of Parlors, Churches, Stores, Factories, Vessels, Sleighboats and Railroads.

These Lamps are constructed on scientific and philosophical principles, and are the only successful, entirely explosionless from Camphene and Burning Fluids, being made of the most durable material, not subject to accident from breakage or corrosion—will burn freely without smoke, giving an equal and steady light, (the dearest to gas ever produced.)

The above Lamps have proved, after three years trial, to be the best Lamps in use, giving universal satisfaction, and burning perfectly safe.

These Lamps will be sold at wholesale or retail as low as the ordinary Camphene and Fluid Lamps, by J. S. RICKER, 13 Main Street, Bangor, Me., dealer in Lamps, Chims, Glass, and Crockery Ware.

The Great European Cough Remedy.

Important to the Consumptive and the Public generally The celebrated

Universal Cough Mixture.

Is a safe and effectual Remedy for Coughs of every description, whether of children or adults, of recent or long standing

PREPARED ONLY BY
REV WALTER CLARKE
Sole Proprietor, Cornishville, Maine.

Within the last twelve months thousands of bottles of the Universal Cough Mixture have been sold in the State of Maine alone and everywhere its extraordinary power in relieving and curing diseases of the Chest and Lungs, is gratefully acknowledged, and especially in cases of obstinate and long standing Coughs, it speedily allays the unpleasant irritation in the throat which excites coughing, it promotes free and easy expectoration, and by removing the exciting cause of the cough, it frequently enables the sufferer to enjoy natural and refreshing sleep, who for weeks had been deprived of that blessing

Sold at 1 shilling bottles 25 cents each large bottles (a quarter) containing the quantity of four small ones, 75 cents each

Extract of a letter from Daniel Adams, Esq., of Bowdoinham, Maine

FEBRUARY 1 1853

To Rev Walter Clark, Dear Sir,—I bought of [illegible] a bottle of your Cough Mixture which I have used in my family and have found it a most excellent remedy in the cure of Colds and Coughs. Also I myself have been afflicted with a cough for two years—that bottle entirely removed it

From Rev Jesse Hoyt, Lewiston Falls

Rev CLARK—Sir, I purchased of the U versal Cough Mixture which you left with me, and found it [illegible] have several applications for it. As far as heard from all have found it perfectly satisfactory in the removal of their coughs. One in who had a cough of long standing, I recommended it to try the effects of the chest and shortness of breath. He was laid aside from business for [illegible] little and before he has taken a third bottle was pleasantly cured and has had no cough since. I have also used it in my family and cannot be too much in the highest terms

Yours &c
JESSE HOYT.

From Mr Fletcher Child, agent for North Dixmont, Maine

DEAR SIR—A number of the most extraordinary cures have been effected by your Universal Cough Mixture in this place. Several who had been afflicted with a cough for a year or more and had tried various remedies without receiving any benefit have been restored to health by the Universal Cough Mixture

From Mrs Hubbard, Thorndike Me

FEBRUARY 1 1854

To Rev Walter Clark, Dear Sir—I this certificate with I have used one bottle of your Universal Cough Mixture in a distressing cough and severe pain in the lungs. I had previously taken several kinds of medicine and had been under the care of a celebrated physician, without obtaining the least relief happily I got Universal Cough Mixture was recommended to me by a friend who had procured a bottle which I began to take according to direction, and in the course of a few days I was entirely cured
